Congregations

Friday, May 21st at Fair Oaks
United Methodist Church in Sacramento
Time: 9:30am – 3:30pm
On-site lunch is included

This workshop teaches clergy to address gossip, rumors and negativity among congregations. It addresses confidentiality and secrecy. It is based on the new book of Alban workshop leader and author Karen McClintock, co-authored with Dr. Kibbie Ruth.

The day will include lecture, PowerPoint presentations, group activities and case study.

Overall Goal: Participants will gain confidence in handling all forms of congregational information in ways that build trust and create transparency.

Objectives:

- ❖ Learn to become an information trustee
- ❖ Stay in-the-know without knowing everything
- ❖ Avoid lawsuits for the mishandling of information
- ❖ Learn the difference between confidentiality and cover up
- ❖ Discuss ways to handle information contained in old secrets

Cost of each workshop is $68.00 for the day, including lunch. Continuing education grants are available through the conference. Second or third persons from the same congregation will be admitted for 1/2 price.

Approved for C.E.U. credit by the California/Nevada Conference Council on Clergy Development
